In-service workshops

These workshops have been hugely popular with clinics. Generally held over a lunch time, the workshops look at state and federal privacy legislations and the application of these into your clinic. Examples of some 'curly' access requests are provided, and usually instigate healthy discussion. These are an excellent session for up-skilling all staff on privacy issues and complies with Accreditation Standard 3.1. If you would like more information on these workshops, or wish to organise a time don't hesitate to call.

The newsletter also contains information on Privacy generally each month, ranging from frequently asked questions, to more complex scenarios that have arisen. There are also a range of documents including presentations, policies, common scenarios etc available under Resources. To access now click here.
